Talkeetna Experience!
(Departs From Anchorage)
2 Day / 1 Night

Sold Out 06/18 & 6/19

Dates Of Operation: May 14th – September 14th

Depart Anchorage for a 2½- hour motorcoach transfer or step aboard the Historic Alaska Railroad Train for a 4-hour train ride north to Talkeetna. Welcome aboard America's only full-service railroad, offering both freight and passenger service year-round. Construction of this 500-mile line began in 1915 and was completed in 1923. Work gangs built the railroad in sections. Their construction camps grew into section stations where crews who maintained the line lived, along with their families. In fact, nearly 70% of Alaska's population lives along the railroad corridor. You will head north through the vast land while enjoying narration from Alaska Railroad Tour Guides on the history of the railroad and points of interest along the way. Your train trip will end in Talkeetna. This "Northern Exposure" like town is filled with Alaska history and local charm. Talkeetna has long been the staging area for climbers of Mt. McKinley. This community of about 600 residents is located at the confluence of the Susitna, Chulitna and the Talkeetna Rivers, and about 60 miles from Mt. McKinley. The name "Talkeetna" means "river of plenty" in the Tanaina Indian language. In 1896 a gold rush to the Susitna River brought prospectors to the area, and it soon became a supply station for miners. By 1910, Talkeetna was established as a riverboat steamer station, and was becoming an established village. In 1915, Woodrow Wilson approved the railroad route north to Tanana River at Nenana, and Talkeetna was chosen as the site for the Alaska Engineering Commission Headquarters to build the railroad. Spend your afternoon in Talkeetna exploring the town, museums or taking an optional tour. (See tour options and prices following.) You will overnight at the Talkeetna Alaskan Lodge. The next day spend your morning exploring Talkeetna before boarding the Alaska Railroad departing in your rental car or taking the motorcoach for return to Anchorage.
